Excerpt: .of sword or firearms, I have the honor to propose a weapon with which I am more familiar. He then drew from his pocket a pill box, took from it two pills, and thus addressed his antagonist: -- As a man of honor, sir, you certainly do not wish to fight me except on equal terms. Here are two pills, one composed of the most deadly poison, the other perfectly harmless. You shall take your choice of them, and I promise faithfully to take the one which you leave. It is needless to say that the affair was settled by a hearty laugh. THE KING AND THE CAKES Many, many years ago, there lived in England a king so wise and brave and good that he was called Alfred the Great. Although a king, he had many trials to bear. Once, when hard-pressed by the...
